

1. Looking East along start of new road route, slope up towards woodland edge

2. Road line looking west will be behind more established birch tree cover

3. View looking southwest, road will be situated along conifer edge.

4. View looking south from existing road, looking directly up at woodland edge

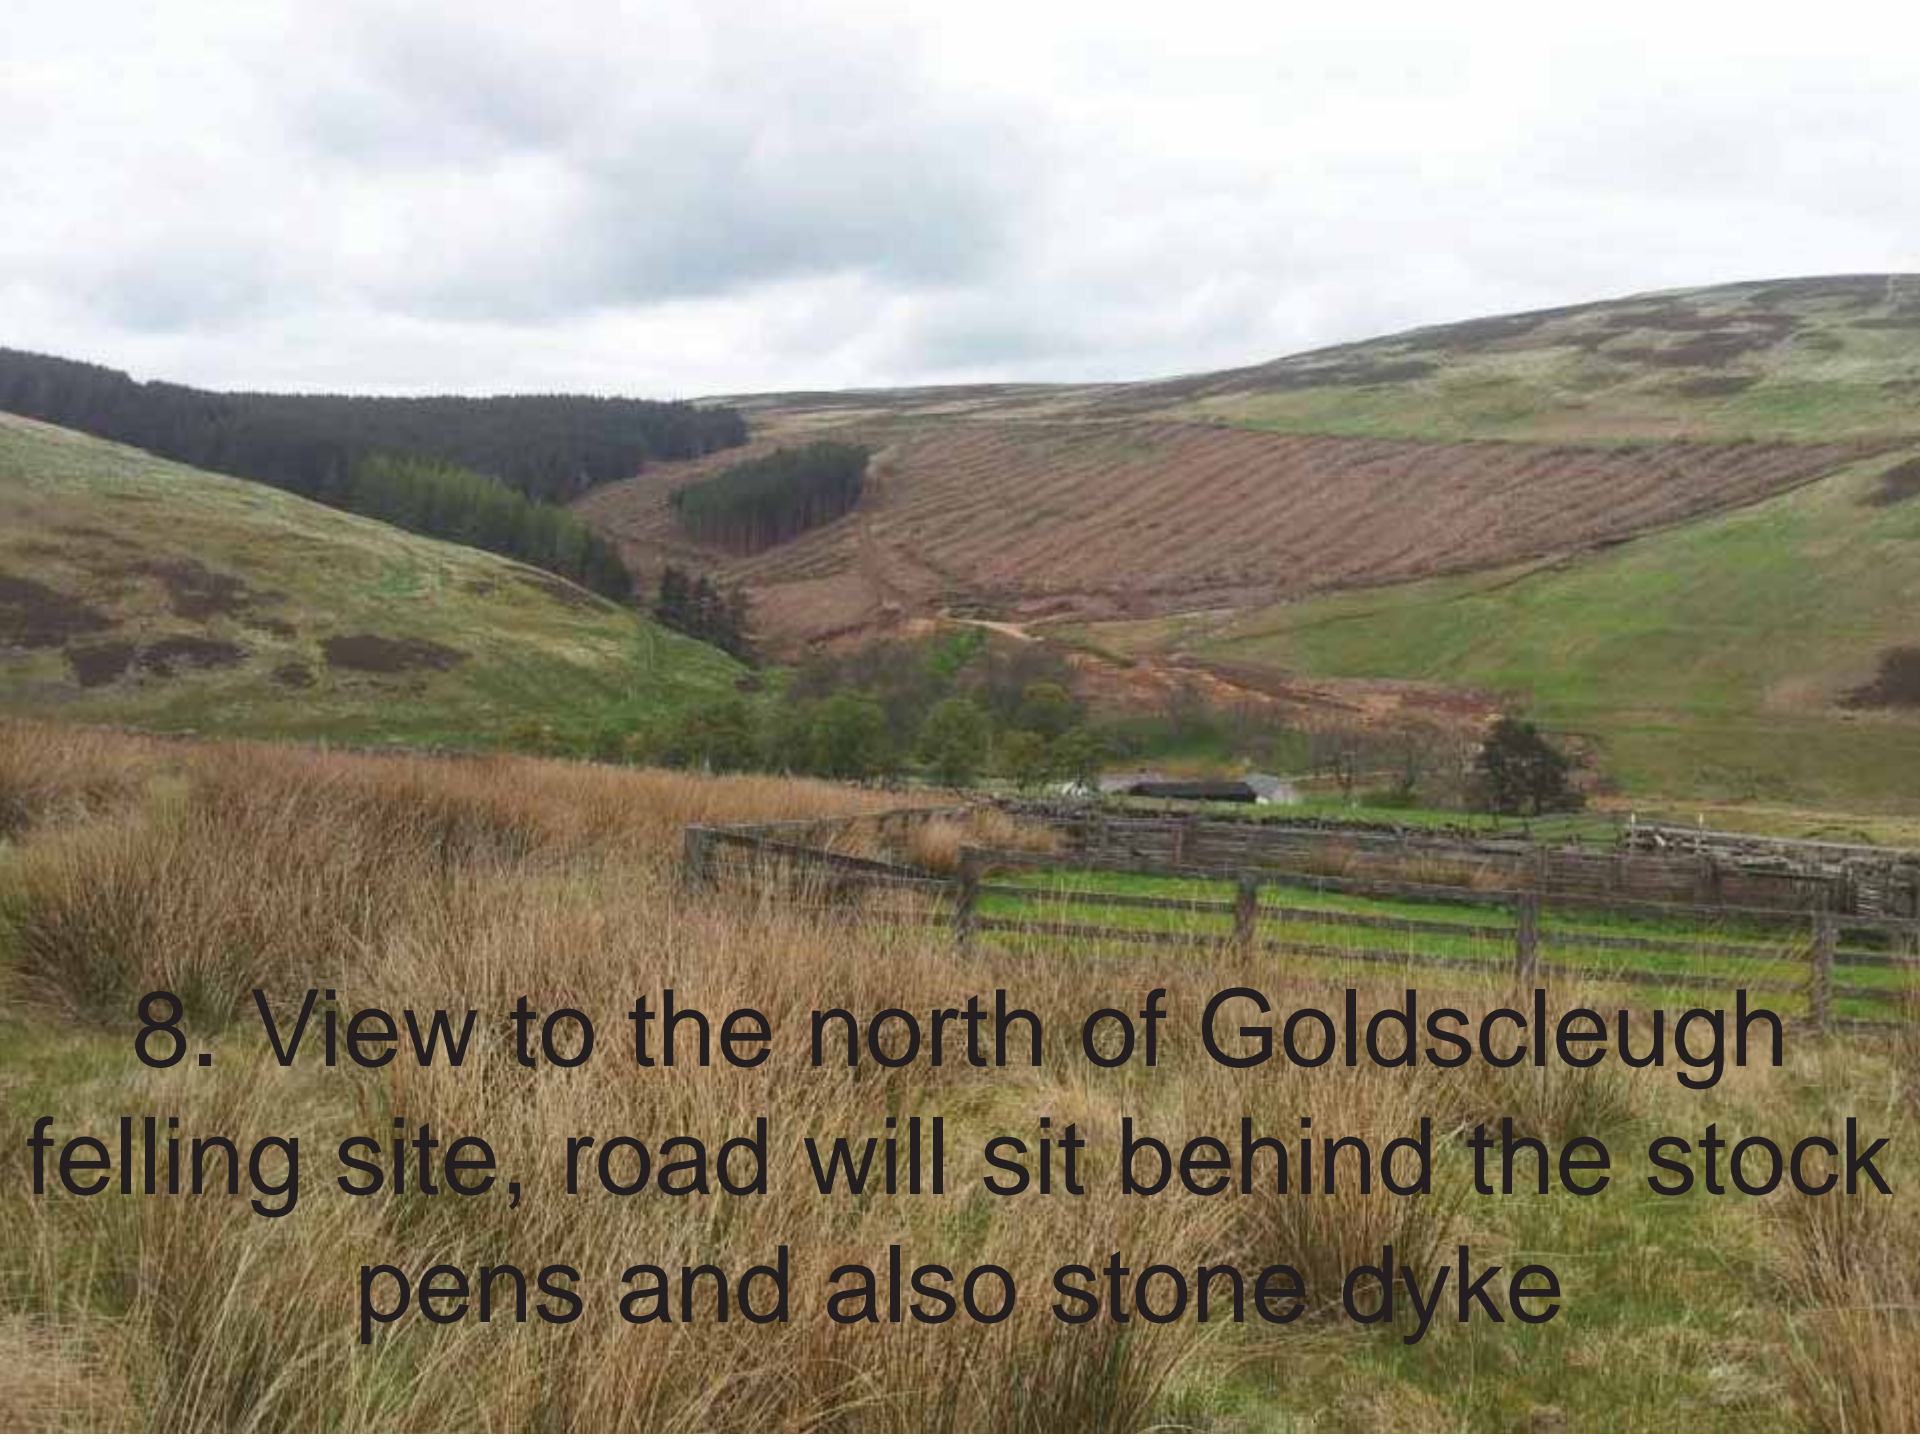

5. Looking back west through section between top of dyke and woodland

6. Road continues next to woodland, travelling SE on flat ground

7. Looking back NW, stone dyke will screen new road

8. View to the north of Goldscleugh felling site, road will sit behind the stock pens and also stone dyke

9. Proposed turning T location for wagons and area of borrow pits for local stone

10. Area for T and borrow pits