Subject: RE: Twice Brewed Landscaping - 17NP0004

Chris,

If the applicant is dissuaded from planting Rowan I can confirm that I do not consider the alternatives proposed (azaleas, hydrangea, cornus or berberis as being suitable as they are non native and out of keeping with this sensitive area of the National Park. The purpose of the proposed planting is to help breakup the hard stone frontage of the Twice Brewed Inn when viewed from receptor sites to the north such as the National Trails and Military Road.

I would wish to see the applicant follow the principals set out in the landscaping scheme of the adjacent development at the Sill and use predominantly native plants species so as alternatives to Rowan I might suggest shrub species such as Holly (Ilex aquifolium), Hazel, (Corylus avellana), Hawthorne (Crataegus monogyna) or possibly Guelder Rose (Viburnum Opulus).

I hope this helps.

regards
