Hi Chris

I can confirm I am happy with the proposal with regard to impacts on heritage assets, the application demonstrates an understanding of the archaeological potential and has taken this into account when developing the proposals. Clearly there has been much recent activity in this area, since the construction of the original Visitor Centre and car park. Excavation limited to within the car park construction levels will clearly not require monitoring, but those to a depth where this is not known should include resource for archaeological monitoring (watching brief) given the sensitivity of the area.

Regards,
Chris

Please find attached an updated version of the plan for this - it remains the same, it just has a scale bar added. I have had confirmation that the site plan scales at 1:250 at A1. Sections are as per the annotated dimensions.

Regards,
Chris

Dear Mike & Chris,

Please find attached a revised plan of the site (including sections of excavation work) and a detailed method statement for the Housesteads application. Could you get any additional comments to me within the next 14 days. If the timescale causes any problems, please let me know.

Full application documentation available at the link: <http://nnpa.planning-register.co.uk/plaPlanningAppDisplay.aspx?AppNo=17NP0041>

Regards,
Chris

Chris,

Further to your previous emails from Mike Collins and Chris Jones, please find attached a revised site location plan and Excavation Method Statement that sets out the archaeological context of the site and proposed building work. The fundamental details of the proposed development remain unchanged but hopefully these two documents now provide the clarity that was missing from the original application.

I trust that these will address the concerns raised by both Mike and Chris but do come back to me if you require any further clarification.

Regards

Robert Mayhew
