Jay,

I can confirm that I am happy with the specification and method statement outlined in application 19NP0041 for the construction of an access track to the Barrowburn telecommunications mast compound and the subsequent reseeding and maintenance work identified.

Whilst they refer to the need of cutting the emerging grass, because this is an open landscape and the track will be unfenced, I suspect they might find that the resident sheep might take a liking to the emergent sward. I would be surprised if it ever reaches a height of 75mm.

Anyway, whilst the chosen seed mix isn't entirely in keeping with that of the adjacent sward, the ryegrass dominant sward should be hard wearing and will eventually blend in with the adjacent sward as the sheep graze and defecate upon the track and adjacent seed blows in.

I am happy that the work set out in drawing D7529.002 when implemented is sufficient to discharge Condition 6 of application 18NP0026.

If you have any further queries with respect to the above do not hesitate to get back in touch.

Regards

Robert Mayhew
