Dear Colin,

I have looked at the details of this application and note that it is a resubmission of an earlier application (18NP0088). Having examined the method statement and other details I have no reason to change my opinion from that given for the previous submission and have no objection to this application. The base is a pre-constructed gravity base which will be inserted after a small area of excavation. I do not think there are any likely impacts on the River Breamish (River Tweed SAC) considering this methodology so I do not consider that a Habitats Regulations Assessment is required.

Yours sincerely,
Gill Thompson
