Dear Colin,

Thanks for consulting me on this application. I can confirm that the proposal site lies within an area of historic and archaeological significance, comprising the former field system associated with the medieval village of Harbottle. I welcome the assertion in the Planning, Design and Heritage Statement that "there is no intention to alter or obscure any of the existing boundaries."

I note an aerial photograph TMG HV/03/C 55-57 from the Historic Village Atlas which shows the site as a cricket ground. This image accounts for the lack of narrow plot boundaries on the site which, presumably, had been removed to create a level outfield. It would be helpful for this image to be acknowledged by the applicant.

This does not demonstrate that there are no below ground archaeological remains surviving in the area proposed for development, and although the information provided is sufficient to determine the application, I would recommend that archaeological monitoring takes place during the removal of turf and topsoil prior to development. This would be enabled by an archaeological watching brief condition, in accordance with the CIFA Standard and Guidance and allowing the watching archaeologist sufficient access and time to record any features or finds which may be of interest.

Kind regards,

Chris
