Dear Colin,

I have read the design and access statement and seen the location plans for this proposal and have no objections if the working methodology relating to badgers and other wildlife are made a condition. There is little risk to biodiversity from the proposal if these working methods are carried out. We agreed at the pre-application stage that no full ecological survey was required. I am content that the route of the electricity connection will not impact any trees on site.

Yours sincerely,
Gill Thompson
