Hi Colin,
I have no objection to this application on heritage grounds.

- * The site lies on developed land and is located close to the rear of the existing building and unlikely to cause harm to adjacent heritage assets;
- * The results of previous archaeological work in this area within similarly developed contexts suggest a very low potential for surviving archaeological remains.
- * The siting and scale of the proposal would not intrude into the setting of adjacent heritage assets or have at least a neutral impact.

Regards,
Chris
